Part 3: Translation

Translate the following passage into Urdu (20 marks).

If you travel to live in a different country, you may encounter unexpected difficulties. Clearly, you may have to learn a new language there and this takes time for you to be fluent and confident. In several countries people may drive on the other side of the road, which means that pedestrians may have to be extra careful when crossing the road.

Attending a new school in a new country can also make you feel anxious and worried. This is because it involves settling in with new people, understanding rules, meeting teachers, adapting to a different routine and also learning unfamiliar subjects. Even learning how to put on a tie could be a new experience for some students.

When I started to attend my school in England, I experienced a huge cultural difference. In my home country, we would never dare to look our teachers directly in the eye when talking to them, as it was considered very rude and disrespectful. However, when you have to stand in front of the teacher here, the first thing they will say to you is: "Look at me when I am talking to you!"
