

Worksheet 8: Designing for replicability

Choose one of the following study options: A, B, C or D

Researchers want to use a questionnaire to investigate:

- A. The ability of psychology students to recognise ICM-11 features of OCD
- B. Consumers' preferred store interior design layouts
- C. Health service users experience of practitioner interpersonal skills
- D. Factors which motivate workers in a workplace

For each specific feature of the study, write a detailed description in the table below which would allow another researcher to replicate the study to obtain similar results. The first feature has a partial description to get you started:

Specific feature	Detailed description
Question format	Closed questions would be used in this study to....
	Open questions would be used in this study to...
Examples of questions
Question scoring/ interpretation
Technique (paper/pencil, online, postal)	